

Women & Gender Studies BA Curriculum Map

I = introduce, P = Practice, M = mastery

Course	#1. Students will be able to articulate and critique multiple theoretical frameworks, such as feminism, critical race feminism, queer theory, masculinity, and sexuality studies.	#2. Students will be able to integrate historical and contemporary knowledge of gender activism globally and in the US into an analysis of gender issues.	#3. Students will be able to understand and apply feminist epistemology and research methods demonstrated through independent research using standard English grammar and coherent written organization.	#4. Students will be able to analyze and evaluate texts and ideas in both oral and written modalities.	#5. Students will demonstrate leadership skills by organizing and implementing projects.
WGST 205: Gender & Globalization	I	I		I/P
WGST 302: Introduction to Women's Studies	I/P	I/P	I	P	I
WGST 350: Research, Methodology, and	P	P	P/M	P	P
WGST 480: Feminist Theories	M	M	M	M	M
WGST 492: Capstone in WGST	M	M	M	M	M
WGST 495: Internship & Community Service	(P)	(P)	M	M	M

For the most up-to-date information, please contact the program.

Course	#1. Students will be able to articulate and critique multiple theoretical frameworks, such as feminism, critical race feminism, queer theory, masculinity, and sexuality studies.	#2. Students will be able to integrate historical and contemporary knowledge of gender activism globally and in the US into an analysis of gender issues.	#3. Students will be able to understand and apply feminist epistemology and research methods demonstrated through independent research using standard English grammar and coherent written organization.	#4. Students will be able to analyze and evaluate texts and ideas in both oral and written modalities.	#5. Students will demonstrate leadership skills by organizing and implementing projects.
WGST 100: Intro to Gender Studies in the Humanities	I			I
WGST 101: Intro to Ethnic Studies	I	I	I	I	I
WGST 105: Intro to Queer Studies	I/P	I/P	I/P	I/P	I/P
WGST 220: Intro to Gender and Social Space	I/P	I		P
WGST 320: Gendered Techno-Culture	P	I	M	M	M

For the most up-to-date information, please contact the program.

Course	#1. Students will be able to articulate and critique multiple theoretical frameworks, such as feminism, critical race feminism, queer theory, masculinity, and sexuality studies.	#2. Students will be able to integrate historical and contemporary knowledge of gender activism globally and in the US into an analysis of gender issues.	#3. Students will be able to understand and apply feminist epistemology and research methods demonstrated through independent research using standard English grammar and coherent written organization.	#4. Students will be able to analyze and evaluate texts and ideas in both oral and written modalities.	#5. Students will demonstrate leadership skills by organizing and implementing projects.
WGST 330: Women in Leadership	I	P	P	P/M	P/M
WGST 340: Masculinities	I/P	I/P	I	P
WGST 360: Politics of Sexuality	P	P	I	P	P
WGST 370: Gender, Activism & Social Change	P	P	P	M	M
WGST 410: Gender, Health & Aging	M	P	P	M	M
WGST 420: Queer Theory	M	M	M	M	M

For the most up-to-date information, please contact the program.

Course	#1. Students will be able to articulate and critique multiple theoretical frameworks, such as feminism, critical race feminism, queer theory, masculinity, and sexuality studies.	#2. Students will be able to integrate historical and contemporary knowledge of gender activism globally and in the US into an analysis of gender issues.	#3. Students will be able to understand and apply feminist epistemology and research methods demonstrated through independent research using standard English grammar and coherent written organization.	#4. Students will be able to analyze and evaluate texts and ideas in both oral and written modalities.	#5. Students will demonstrate leadership skills by organizing and implementing projects.
WGST 470T: Film & Feminism	P		M	M
WGST 470T: Sex, Gender & Rock & Roll	P/M	P	P/M	M	P
WGST 470T: Ethnic Sexism in Popular Culture	P/M	P	M	M	M
WGST 470T: Politics of Reproduction	M	M	P	M	M
WGST 470T: Feminism & Sustainability	P	P	P	M	M
WGST 482: Intersectionality & Difference	I/P	P/M	P	M	P/M

For the most up-to-date information, please contact the program.

Course	#1. Students will be able to articulate and critique multiple theoretical frameworks, such as feminism, critical race feminism, queer theory, masculinity, and sexuality studies.	#2. Students will be able to integrate historical and contemporary knowledge of gender activism globally and in the US into an analysis of gender issues.	#3. Students will be able to understand and apply feminist epistemology and research methods demonstrated through independent research using standard English grammar and coherent written organization.	#4. Students will be able to analyze and evaluate texts and ideas in both oral and written modalities.	#5. Students will demonstrate leadership skills by organizing and implementing projects.
WGST 490T: Intensive Reading in Feminist Theories-- Angela Davis	M	M	M	M	P
WGST 490T: Gloria Anzaldua	M	M	M	M	P
WGST 490T: Simone de Beauvoir	M	M	M	M	P
WGST 499: Independent Study

For the most up-to-date information, please contact the program.