

Teaching Writing Well: A Seminar for Secondary Teachers

We are pleased to offer a writing series designed for secondary education teachers. If you are searching for professional development to enhance your expertise and marketability, join us for all 3 sessions and earn a Certificate of Professional Development in Secondary Writing Instruction.

Why Writing Matters

APRIL 27, 2024

Establishing the importance of writing in secondary schools and how vital writing skills are for success in college and career.

Approaches and Strategies for Teaching Writing

MAY 11, 2024

This session will discuss research-based approaches and proven strategies for teaching writing skills to secondary students.

Providing Helpful Feedback to Student Writers

MAY 25, 2024

This session will focus on time saving approaches to providing students with helpful feedback on their writing, including the ethical use of AI as a tool for providing formative feedback to student writers.

Saturdays, 9:00 am - 11:00 am
CSUF campus, CP 120

Questions?
Dr. Chris Street
cstreet@fullerton.edu